Arena bomber brother denies murder charges

THE younger brother of the Manchester Arena bomber has formally entered not guilty pleas to multiple charges of murder.

At an Old Bailey hearing, the trial of Hashem Abedi (above), which was due to start next month, was also delayed until the New Year.

On May 22, 2017, Salman Abedi, 22, detonated a suicide vest as music fans left an Ariana Grande concert, killing 22 and injuring 260 more.

His sibling, Hashem, who was raised in Manchester, travelled to Libya before the deadly attack.

The defendant, now aged 22, was arrested in Tripoli and was extradited to the UK in July.

He appeared at the Old Bailey before senior judge Mr Justice Baker for a plea hearing yesterday.

Ambulance thief in police shootout

AT least two people have been injured in the Norwegian capital, Oslo, after being struck by a stolen ambulance – driven by an armed man who was injured when police opened fire to stop him.

Officers said those struck by the emergency vehicle included a woman with a pram and an elderly couple.

The mum and her baby were taken to a nearby hospital.

Oslo police said: "We are in control of the ambulance that was stolen. Shots were fired to stop him. He is not in a critical condition."

IT'S BEEN A PAIN: Juncker

JUNCKER: I'M WASTED!

Outgoing EU president blasts 'time & energy' spent on Brexit

By COLIN HURST news@sundaysport.co.uk

BREXIT has been a "waste of time and energy" for the European Union, according to outgoing European Commission President Jean-Claude Juncker.

Addressing the European Parliament in Strasbourg, Mr Juncker said it has "pained" him to have spent "so much" of his time in his role dealing with Britain's exit from the EU.

"The commission has worked tirelessly to negotiate and renegotiate an agreement with the United Kingdom to respect the UK's decision to leave the European Union," he said.

Mr Juncker said the EU could only ratify the Brexit deal that was agreed last week once it has been approved by British MPs.

He told MEPs: "We need now to watch events in Westminster very closely.

"But it's not possible, not imaginable that this parliament would ratify the agreement before Westminster has ratified the agreement."

BLOW: PM Johnson

Deported

European Council President Donald Tusk said he was discussing Prime Minister Boris Johnson's request for a delay to Brexit with other EU leaders, with a decision set to be made "in the coming days".

The request should be treated "in all seriousness", he said.

And he added: "It is obvious that the result of these consultations will very much depend on what the British parliament decides or doesn't decide.

"We should be ready for every scenario.

"But one thing must be clear. As I said to Prime Minister Johnson on Saturday, a no-deal Brexit will never be our decision."

But the European Parliament's Brexit coordinator suggested that ratification of the deal there was not a foregone conclusion.

Guy Verhofstadt suggested "all problems faced by EU27 nationals in the UK need to be solved" first.

He said his demands included no citizens being deported from Britain if they miss the deadline for settled status so as to prevent "another Windrush scandal".

On Monday, Speaker John Bercow rejected the PM's attempt to stage a straight yes/no "meaningful vote" on the deal.

The focus now turns to the government's Withdrawal Agreement Bill, which it wants to swiftly pass into law in time for the October 31 Brexit deadline.

Japs eye new boss

JAPANESE Emperor Naruhito formally proclaimed his ascendancy to the throne yesterday in a centuries-old ceremony attended by dignitaries from more than 180 countries.

Naruhito became Emperor and his wife Masako became Empress in May in a brief ceremony, but Tuesday's 'Sokui no Rei' was the more elaborate ritual at the royal palace.

"I sincerely hope that Japan will develop further and contribute to the friendship and peace of the international community, and to the welfare and prosperity of human beings through the people's wisdom and ceaseless efforts," the 59-year-old declared in front of about 2,000 guests, including Prince Charles.

The first Japanese Emperor born after World War Two, Naruhito acceded to the throne when his father, Akihito, 85, became the first Japanese monarch to abdicate in two centuries.

Trump calls Democrats 'lynch party'

DONALD Trump has injected racial overtones into the Congressional impeachment inquiry by comparing the Democratic-led investigation into his handling of US policy on Ukraine to a "lynching".

Under pressure over impeachment, his Syria policy and other issues, the president (above) tweeted: "So some day, if a Democrat becomes President and the Republicans win the House, even by a tiny margin, they can impeach the President, without due process or fairness or any legal rights.

"All Republicans must remember what they are witnessing here – a lynching.

"But we will WIN!"

Lynchings, or hangings, were historically mostly used by whites against black men in the South beginning in the late 19th century, amid rising racial tensions in the US.

By comparing the impeachment process to a lynching, Trump is also likening Democrats to a lynch mob.

House majority whip Jim Clyburn said: "That is one word no president ought to apply to himself."

Skip truck used in house arson attack

A SKIP lorry was deliberately driven into a house before being set alight by arsonists.

Police said the arson attack on a property in Sheffield, on Monday evening, was targeted.

The lorry was deliberately reversed into the house, then its cab was set on fire before the arsonists fled.

They left in another vehicle that crashed nearby – police said the fire did not spread, but two people had been rescued from the property.

South Yorkshire Police said in a statement: "We believe the incident was a targeted act and officers are in the local area carrying out initial inquiries."

£37M PROTEST BILL...AND RISING

THIS year's Extinction Rebellion protests have cost the taxpayer a cool £37MILLION – and the figure is still rising.

The eco group shut down parts of London for more than a week in April and returned again this month, hitting transport routes, businesses and government offices in two weeks of mayhem.

The Met Police was forced to flood the streets with officers as they tried to keep the protests in Trafalgar Square.

Reinforcements were needed from around the country as it took up to EIGHT officers each to arrest uncooperative demonstrators and hours to complete paperwork due to a policy of non-compliance encouraged by members of Extinction Rebellion.

Met Police Commissioner said the bill for this month's protests stands at £21m, and is rising.

More than 1,800 people were arrested during the two weeks.

Around £6m of this month's sum was spent on officers from 38 other forces while £3.5m was spent on overtime for police officers.

EMMA WATSON GETS SLOT ON COUNTRYFILE

RURAL ROLE: But will Emma shoot rats?

Fury at BBC farming show's 'PC agenda'

By GRACE HOOPER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

HARRY Potter actress Emma Watson is set for a spell as a presenter… on Countryfile!

The 29-year-old, who played Hermione Granger on the fantasy wizard flick, has since turned her hand to promoting women's issues.

And it is in this role that she has been recruited to appear on the BBC's rural-based magazine show.

Emma will appear for at least three episodes with special reports from around the world focused on women in farming.

But some in the farming community are unhappy that Emma has been chosen for the role.

Hannah Lorne, 23, who works on a farm in Cumbria, said: "We don't need Hollywood people on telly telling us about farming.

Nonsense

"This is typical of the BBC. They think just because someone is famous that they have the right to lecture us.

"Women are doing very well in farming and don't need this PC nonsense.

"Countryfile has long become city folk's idea of what the countryside is and not a true reflection of the truth.

"I can't imagine Emma Watson will be out shooting rats or pulling sheep out of snowdrifts.

"That's real farming, not blethering about equality, diversity and representation.

"If you can do the job, you're a farmer. If you can't, you're not. Emma Watson can fk off!"

The first report will come from the High Peak in Derbyshire, the second from African country Mozambique and the third from China.

A BBC source said: "Emma is a global superstar with global appeal and will attract a younger audience that Countryfile needs."

SHOP SHY SARAH

SEX and the City* actress Sarah Jessica Parker says she HATES shopping.

The 54-year-old actress – who is best-known for playing shopaholic shagabout Carrie Bradshaw on the HBO series – has revealed she suffers anxiety whenever she heads to the shops.

Sarah said she wasn't "a crazy shopper and haven't been for many years".

"I think I used to be a little more so," she said. "Shopping sometimes can give me anxiety, like, I feel bad."

Nat: Soap sex broke my pinkie

EMMERDALE actress Natalie J Robb says she broke her little toe while shooting racy sex scenes with co-star Jurell Carter on the hit ITV soap.

The 44-year-old (above) who has played feisty Moira Barton for 10 years, said: "I fractured my little pinkie toe in the caravan doing love scenes."

She added: "It was all somersaults, but I soldiered on!"

Jurell added: "The caravan is so small – we've had to do lots of intimate scenes in there. I'm 6'3..."

Natalie and Jurell's characters have been embarking on a steamy affair with the majority of their racy trysts in a caravan.

Their affair is set to be exposed this week by Moira's furious husband Cain Dingle, played by Jeff Hordley, and he accompanies the cheating duo on a fishing trip where he reveals that he knows about their romance.

Talking about the upcoming scenes, Natalie teased: "It definitely won't end well. I think Pete, who told Cain about the affair, caved too soon."

Call to relax drug crimes

POLITICIANS have called for some drug offences to be decriminalised, in a bid to prevent a rising number of related deaths.

A report by the Health and Social Care Committee found the country's position on drugs was "clearly failing" and called for a "radical new approach".

It says drug possession for personal use should be a civil matter not a crime, and any policy should focus on healthcare, not prosecution.

It urged the Government to carry out a consultation on decriminalisation and to look at the system in Portugal where this was introduced, saying such a move would "save money" from the criminal justice system and allow for more investment in prevention and treatment.

The UK has some of the highest drug death rates in Europe, particularly in Scotland.

RONALDO MAKES MORE FROM INSTAGRAM THAN FOOTBALL!

FOOTBALLER Cristiano Ronaldo earns MORE from his postings on Instagram than he does from playing football.

Ronaldo has taken home £37million from paid Instagram posts over the past year, according to a study, which lists the 34-year-old as the platform's highest earner.

His annual wage packet at Juventus, who he joined in 2018, is £26million, according to Goal.com – £11million less than he get for his posting on the social media site.

Receiving a reported average of £750,000 per advertised post, his Instagram earnings far eclipse the world's biggest celebrities, including Kylie Jenner, Selena Gomez, and Emily Ratajkowski.

He also beats footie rival Lionel Messi, who is said to have earned less than half of Ronaldo's total with £18m.

Amongst the brands Ronaldo has represented on Instagram are Clear Haircare, Nike Football, and Six Pad Europe.

Analysts Hopper HQ's marketing executive Nicola Cronin said: "Ronaldo is the most followed human on Instagram with 186 million followers, so companies are paying almost £800,000 for posts to access his insane reach.

"Due to his status as a celebrity and football star, his earnings from Instagram break away from typical influencer partnerships, as many of his promotional posts will be part of wider sponsorship deals, such as that with Nike.

"You only need to go on his Instagram to see how many paid partnerships he does outside of the sports market."

Dunk ‘tent crash’ killer is banged up

A MAN has been jailed for eight years and four months after a woman died when he drunkenly drove his car into her tent.

Jake Waterhouse (above), 27, pleaded guilty to causing the death by dangerous driving of Anna Evans, 46, who died in hospital nine days after the incident on a campsite in Caernarfon, North Wales, on August 19.

The prosecutor at Mold Crown Court said Waterhouse and friend Philip Eves had been drinking Jack Daniels and lager on the evening of August 18.

The father-of-two, from Partington, Manchester, who only had a provisional licence, drove Mr Eves’car around the site in the early hours of the next morning.

He hit one tent, injuring the occupants, before crashing the car into Mrs Evans and her husband Huw’s tent.

Waterhouse fled the scene but was persuaded by his mother to do “the right thing” and return.

Also disqualifying him from driving for 12 years and two months, the judge said it was an act “of appalling irresponsibility”.

Anti-terror kit to be used at footie racists

FOOTBALL chiefs plan to use advanced listening devices usually employed by anti-terrorism units to identify racist fans.

After at least five cases of vile chanting in eight rounds of the Serie A season, Italian football federation boss Gabriele Gravina has detailed a radar device that uses directional mikes to determine a sound’s source.

He said: “It can immediately determine who is making a racist chant – or it can illustrate the trajectory of fireworks.”

Mr Gravina said the tool is not expensive and the only obstacle is Italy’s privacy law, “as the device can also listen to private conversations”.

He aims to test the tools at Italy’s European Championship qualifier against Armenia.

Attack after mistaken identity while watching skin flick...

BRUTE ACCUSED PARTNER OF BEING A PORN STAR

MENTALLY UNWEL: Violent Stanley Dodds

VILE Stanley Dodds subjected his partner to a prolonged and terrifying attack after accusing her of starring in a porn film he was watching.

Ironically, the 54-year-old thug had saved his partner’s life the previous year by performing CPS when she went into cardiac arrest.

She went on to spend four months in hospital recuperating.

By ROY DURRIDGE

news@sundaysport.co.uk

Just weeks after she was discharged, Dodds subjected her to cruel violence “designed to humiliate and terrify” and told her “I wish I had never brought you back to life”.

Newcastle Crown Court heard that Dodds had been watching pornography in March and accused his partner of 19 years of starring in one of the films.

He said his girlfriend was “one of the women in the video he was watching” and made “bizarre comments” about men “coming over the back fence” when he was out of the house.

Weapons

In the shocking violence that followed, Dodds punched, stamped on and threatened his victim with weapons, poured lager over her, drove her to a bridge and threatened to throw her in the river and forced her to stand in the garden in the cold for two hours.

Prosecutor Ian Cook told the court the woman believed Dodds “resented” giving the care she required when she got out of hospital.

Describing the attack, Mr Cook said: “There were two punches to the head of the complainant, who was then dragged by the hair to the ground He stamped on her legs.”

The court heard that further punches and stamps followed and Dodds, who then poured a can of beer over his victim, started striking the area of her heart, where she had a device fitted to restart it.

Mr Cook added: “He was saying ‘I wish I had never brought you back to life’.”

After threatening his victim with a knife, Dodds drove her to a bridge on the A19 and warned he would “throw her in the river”, then hit her legs with a hammer and hit her head on the steering wheel.

Mr Cook said: “They returned home and the defendant made her stand in the garden for two hours in the cold. When she was allowed back in the assault continued, with further punching.”

The court heard the victim needed a blood transfusion and had widespread bruising, with a laceration to her forehead.

Dodds, of Sunderland, admitted assault.

Jailing him for 22 months, Judge Sarah Mallett said the attack was “callous ill-treatment designed to humiliate and terrify her” but she accepted Dodds was “very mentally unwell at the time”.

JUICY Jameela Jamil looks bust great as she enjoys a night out with her fella James Blake.

Meanwhile, Jameela is currently locked in a bitter Twitter feud with her long-time nemesis Piers Morgan.

It all began when Piers tweeted that he was against “rich privileged famous people whining all the time about how awful their lives are”.

COUNCIL’S £36K DRONE IS UNUSED

A DRONE that has cost a council nearly £36,000 has not flown operationally a single time since it was bought more than a year and a half ago.

West Sussex County Council became one of the first local authorities in the UK to buy a drone, in February 2018.

Then council leader Louise Goldsmith hailed the many “exciting opportunities” for its use, including by firefighters.

But despite shelling out £20,850 for the drone, and paying for 15 people to be trained to use it, it has yet to be flown in an official capacity.

The drone’s future is now being reviewed, the council said.

Labour councillor Michael Jones said: “I was genuinely staggered when I was told that it had never been used.

“I think it’s certainly an insult to taxpayers.”

Skint Blue Peter star looked in Hoover for cash

FORMER Blue Peter star Yvette Fielding has admitted being so skint after leaving the show she searched her HOOVER BAG for spare change and went on the dole.

The 51-year-old (above), who became the youngest ever Blue Peter presenter in 1987 at the age of just 18, left the show in 1992.

Before creating the successful TV show Most Haunted in 2002, she confessed that she was desperately short of cash.

Asked if she was ever 'hard up' financially, the mum-of-two said: "When I was 26 or 27, things got very tough.

"Other TV work dried up and I was looking after my son and paying a mortgage on my own, so I had no alternative but to go on the dole.

"At one point, I even started looking in the Hoover bag to see if there was any loose change."

Love Island Caroline's snaps are riddled with online viruses

Don't worry, folks ...they're perfectly safe here!

CAROLINE Flack has been named the 'most dangerous celebrity' to search for online.

The 39-year-old Love Island host produces the riskiest results when searched online, according to internet security company McAfee.

Their research suggests it can lead to sites that could potentially expose their fans to malicious viruses.

The former Strictly Come Dancing champion and Xtra Factor host climbed from fifth place to knock Keeping Up With The Kardashians star Kim Kardashian off the UK top spot.

In fact, Kim has tumbled to 26th place in McAfee's UK Most Dangerous Celebrity list.

Caroline has posted a number of risqué and near naked pics on her Instagram over the past year – and this has led to her being included in a number of 'dangerous' sites.

Cyber criminals are having a field day luring unsuspecting consumers to malicious websites that may install malware or steal personal information and passwords.

"After another year of Love Island dominating headlines in the UK, I'm not surprised she has topped this year's list.

"People want to keep up to date with the latest pop culture and celebrity news at any time from any device.

"Often consumers put that speed and convenience over security by clicking on suspicious links that promise content featuring our favourite celebrities."

OFFICE GIRL CUT LOVE RIVAL'S HEAD OFF

A ROUTINE dispute between two female office workers led to one murdering the other with a wine bottle and then sawing her head off, a court heard.

The grisly case involves married mother-of-two Sophie Masala, 55, and the late Maryline Planche, who was 52 and single.

The pair were civil servants who managed funds for the disabled, but Masala developed such an 'obsessional hatred' for her colleague that she ended up killing her.

After using a full wine bottle to bludgeon Ms Planche to death in her own home, Masala returned a week later with a saw to slice her head off.

She then buried the head in a communal garden next to Ms Planche's block of flats, after digging a hole using a soup spoon.

The rest of the body was chopped into parts, placed into five bags and wheeled away in a supermarket trolley before being dumped in the Canal du Midi.

The killing only came to light when one of the bags containing body parts was found in the canal by a passer-by.

Witnesses have claimed that Masala was talkative and disruptive in the office, while the partially sighted Ms Planche was a much-respected member of staff at the Association for the Management of Funds for the Integration of the Disabled.

Masala has admitted that she had been exasperated at the way Ms Planche used to take work home with her and went round to her flat 'to complain'.

The court in Toulouse, south-west France, heard Masala plead self-defence after claiming she panicked and lashed out.

Masala has a previous conviction for theft, and in 2012 worked as a prostitute, with the compliance of her husband, the court heard.

The trial continues.

Starkers Daisy fat shamed in shower by ex

MODEL Daisy Lowe revealed an ex-boyfriend once fat shamed her while she showered – telling her she looked 'disgusting' and needed to lose weight to find more work.

The former Strictly Come Dancing star said she was ill at the time and medication led to her putting on 'a lot of weight'.

After an argument, the 30-year-old (above) said her unnamed beau followed her to the shower and launched the vile tirade as she washed.

Extinction Rebellion supporter Lowe discussed the horrific moment on former Spice Girl Mel B's new podcast The Truth Flirts, as the pair spoke about fat shaming alongside BBC LGBT presenter Ben Hunte.

She said: "Bearing in mind I am starkers and showering, he pointed at me and said 'you're so disgusting you need to lose weight so you can get work'.

"And I was like you and me, over, bye. Do you ever think I want to get on top of you again, no thank you."

RESTRICTIONS on flights between the UK and Sharm el-Sheikh have been lifted.

The Department for Transport has ended the ban due to improvements in security procedures at the Egyptian resort's airport and cooperation between Britain and Egypt on aviation security.

Transport Secretary Grant Shapps said: "The safety and security of British nationals remains our top priority."

AMBER Heard has spoken out against Instagram censorship policy after an image was censored from the site because her NIPPLE was on show.

The 33-year-old posted a shot in September from her expansive piece in Interview magazine, wearing an open black blazer with her nipples exposed.

Amber posted a photoshopped shot of her Aquaman co-star Jason Momoa in the same shot with her bare chest superimposed over his, explaining her rationale.

Strict

"In honour of IG's rigorous and equitable Community Guidelines against showing the Female nipple... and since mine enjoyed the brief privilege that's afforded to my male counterparts," she wrote.

"I decided to pay homage by replacing it with a picture that DID meet IG's strict nudity guidelines and such careful gender policies.

"See my stories to vote on which edit you prefer the most... and thank you IG, here's to 2019!"

On her Instagram Stories, she shared a side-by-side of the photoshopped shot of Momoa and the original shot of herself, writing: "Is there a difference, with the options, A. Yes, One is art and B. This policy is bulls."

The Texas-born beauty played Mera in the 2018 blockbuster alongside Momoa and is expected to return for its 2022 sequel.

She made clear she had no animosity against the leading man, leaving a comment that read: "Btw, love you AquaHubbs! Sorry to use your pecs to make a point!"

SLAMMED: Council's website

FURY AT BUKKAKE CLASSES FOR KIDS

A KIDS' sex education website has been hauled offline for giving advice on porn, orgies, S&M torture and even kinky BUKKAKE.

Hundreds of furious parents have signed a petition blasting the council-backed site after campaigners penned a scathing open letter.

The website was aimed at 13-25s year-olds and described taboo sex acts such as fisting, felching, cock-and-ball torture and bukkake, the Japanese sex act which involves a woman being showered in spunk by numerous men.

Bemused campaigners from The Safe Schools Alliance and Click Off accused the site of spreading "inaccurate and harmful information" and degrading or "dangerous sadomasochistic practices".

Respect Yourself was set up in 2012 by Warwickshire County Council and contained information about puberty, STIs and sexual desire.

The website also encouraged teens to not be embarrassed about porn and masturbation because most people "have a fiddle now and then".

But a spokeswoman for Safe Schools Alliance said: "It's totally inappropriate.

"Teenagers are already under so much pressure because of what they see in porn. This site is normalising porn and the type of sex teenagers are unlikely to get.

"If the message they are getting from the council is dangerous sex is fine, how will they feel when they are uncomfortable? They will think there is something wrong with them.

"We are not against sex education, but we need to show how damaging porn is."

Respect Yourself was taken down by Warwickshire County Council and is currently under "review".

But campaigners who started a petition against the website say they still want answers over how some of the content came to be published in the first place.

Bus tosser who asked woman for BJ faces jail

A MAN who asked a female passenger on a bus suck him off and who then proceeded to masturbate during the hour-long journey, has been told he may face a prison sentence.

Eamon McCoy, 52, has pleaded guilty to a charge of intentionally engaging in offensive conduct of a sexual nature during a bus journey on February 15.

A police report said a woman told them that she was on a bus when a male passenger asked her to perform oral sex.

He then proceeded to masturbate under his clothing for “around an hour”.

The woman took a photo of the man, McCoy, on her phone and contacted police.

In court, McCoy’s defence said his client didn’t recall the incident and was “appalled” by the details that were outlined, adding that he was on a lot of medication at the time.

The judge said he regarded McCoy, of Athlone in the Republic of Ireland, as “a very creepy character”.

Adjourning the case to December 11, he said he was considering a custodial sentence.

Homes needed for skinny pigs

A GROUP of furless “skinny pigs” taken into the care by the RSPCA are looking for a new home.

The unusual animals, a type of Guinea pig which are bred to have no hair – similar to Sphynx cats – were taken into the care after their previous owner struggled to cope.

Eight pigs, including three males named Aardvark, Walrus and Warthog, are looking for new homes, once they have completed further health checks.

Because they have sensitive skin, they need to be kept away from direct sunlight and have pet-safe cream applied to keep them healthy.

There were initially 10 of the animals, but two have already found new owners – the rest are currently in the care of the RSPCA in Middlesex.

INTER-CITY S-EXPRESS: Pair go at it in carriage

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

AN OUTRAGEOUS couple were caught on camera having a steamy romp on board a late-night train.

A two-minute video appears to show the pair engaging in a number of sex acts on the table and seats in an empty carriage before getting off the train, apparently well satisfied.

The incident was caught on the Glasgow to Edinburgh train's CCTV on Saturday night and has since leaked online.

A photo, which was originally shared to a private Facebook group for Glasgow Queen Street staff, has also emerged that appears to show the pair having sex across the seats.

On social media, one person wrote: "Imagine walking onto the train to that."

Another said: "Well, I'm never running for a table ever again."

But one man claimed that sharing the footage was "out of order", writing: "Bang out of order posting this online. A real invasion of privacy to this couple. Everybody's done it and it will be hugely embarrassing to them."

Scotrail bosses have said they are working with British Transport Police to "clamp down" on such behaviour.

A ScotRail spokesman blasted: "Anti-social behaviour has no place on Scotland's Railway, and we will continue to work with the British Transport Police to clamp down on unacceptable conduct."

British Transport Police said they are aware of the footage and are making enquiries.

Shhh! I can't hear the dildo

UPSCALE sex boutique Ann Summers have created a sex toy that's so quiet it can be used in a LIBRARY!

In a press release about their Whisper range of stimulators, the firm said: "At just 35 decibels, the sound this vibrator emits is comparable to the sound of a whisper and is even quieter than the noise in a library, which averages at 40 decibels."

The range features two products, the classic Whisper Rabbit and the Whisper Vibrator. Each has 10 function settings, are made from silicone and are rechargeable.

Sex toy tester Rhalou Allerhand commented: "I remember my first ever sex toy was really loud and I worried my mum would hear it.

"The Ann Summers Whisper Rabbit Vibrator is indeed very quiet."

Girls rate climaxing together as fave turn-on

By GRACE HOOPER news@sundaysport.co.uk

THE 10 biggest sex turn-ons for men and women have been revealed.

Women's biggest turn-on is having a shared orgasm with their lover.

Two-thirds of women (67%) said that was the peak sexual experience which they enjoyed the most.

But it only came fourth on the men's list – which had first time sex with a new partner as the biggest turn-on.

More than half of men (58%) said that sex with someone they had never slept with before was what excited them most.

The results are revealed in a new survey of 2,000 men and women, split evenly amongst the sexes, by IllicitEncounters.com, the leading dating site for married people.

And it showed big differences between the sexes in what turns them on most.

The second biggest turn-on for women was good foreplay.

Confident

In third place was men who know what women want in bed so they don't have to ask.

Fourth place was men who compliment women on something non-physical.

And fifth place went to men who always ensure that a woman has an orgasm, too.

The second biggest male turn on was women who are happy to initiate sex.

Next was women who are confident in the bedroom and are happy to say what they want.

After the shared orgasm in fourth place was women who make their man feel like the best lover in the world in fifth.

IllicitEncounters.com sex and relationship expert Jessica Leoni said: "These findings show just how far apart men and women are in the pursuit of sexual happiness.

"Sex with someone new is what powers the whole dating industry, but it seems that while men are turned on by variety and new sexual encounters what is more important to women is quality sex with their existing partner."

More than a million people have registered with IllicitEncounters.com since it was founded.

The average female member has sex with four different men in her first year on the site.

The average male member has sex with five different women in his first year on the site.

BGT 'MAKES KIDS FAT'

WATCHING Britain's Got Talent makes kids fat, it's claimed.

Children ogling just one episode of Simon Cowell's over-hyped show saw more than four-and-a-half minutes of ads for unhealthy stuff, a study by the Obesity Health Alliance has found.

They analysed ads before 9pm during six live episodes of BGT over one week in May and June, finding that more than 20 per cent for food or drink high in fat, sugar and salt including pizza, burgers, ice cream, cake and biscuits.

This rose to almost 30 per cent in the episode shown on May 30.

A child who watched all six episodes during the week up to 9pm would have seen more than 22 minutes of unhealthy ads, which could lead to them eating an extra 300 calories, they say.

Sex shop thief pops butt plug down his pants

A THIEF is wanted by police after stealing items including a rechargeable butt plug, a whip and a vibrating cock ring from a popular SEX SHOP.

The mystery man was caught on CCTV stealing a horde of items – some of which he thrust down the front of his trousers.

Staff took to social media to out him, posting footage of his haul in which he also stole a leopard print mini dress.

The clip shows him shoving at least one item down the front of his trousers, as he continues to browse for other toys and costumes before then shoving another item down his pants and walking away.

Followers of Peaches & Cream adult store in Auckland, New Zealand, have since responded to the firm's plea for help, with a number poking fun at the thief.

One wrote online: "Where did he store the butt plug?" while another joked, "Why would you do that and risk being snapped on camera?!"

As her dad is acquitted over train assault...

GAZZA'S GIRL IS DOING A STRETCH

CLEARED: Paul (above) and his stepdaughter Bianca in park

By SIMON DEAN
simon@sundaysport.co.uk

IT'S been a tough few weeks for the Gascoigne family – with ex-footie star Paul in court on a sex assault charge.

Gazza, 52, was cleared of all charges at Teesside Crown Court, but if the jury had decided the other way, he could have been looking at a stretch in prison.

Now that's all behind them and the only stretch being done is by Bianca Gascoigne – Paul's adopted daughter.

The 32-year-old babe was spotted doing her exercises in a London park – clearly delighted her stepdad's name has been cleared.

Ex-England star Paul says he suffered a "year of hell" before being cleared of a charge of sexually assaulting a woman on a train.

He was accused of "forcefully and sloppily" kissing a passenger on a York to Newcastle service in August 2018.

But jurors acquitted him of all charges.

'Bucket list' mum held for kid's murder

A MOTHER who begged donations for medical treatments for her daughter and promoted the girl's "bucket list" of dreams to fulfil before she died has been arrested on a murder charge over the seven-year-old's death.

It had been believed that Olivia Gant had died as the result of a terminal disease in 2017.

But now the girl's mother, Kelly Renee Turner, 41, also known as Kelly Gant (above), has been charged with the child's murder, accused of making up the illness and then starving her daughter to death.

It's alleged Turner caused Olivia Gant's death to hide the lies she had told.

Olivia's body was exhumed and an examination found no trace of the illnesses that Turner claimed the girl suffered from.

Turner was arrested on Friday at a Denver, Colorado, hotel and held without bail.

Naked hols business is taking off!

FORGET the staycation – the big thing in the travel business is the NAKATION!

Clothing-optional tourism is becoming one of the fastest-growing segments of the industry, including nude beaches and resorts and cruises, and is expected to pull in billions a year.

Mature adults, 45 and older, make up the majority of nakationers, but millennials are increasingly joining the trend, say experts.

Behavioural scientists theorise that the appeal of nudism may relate in part to the need in our increasingly complex world for "tech detoxing" and going "off the grid" as remedies for the frenetic modern lifestyle.

Ditching clothes, they reason, can be seen as one more way to simplify the chaos and even things up society-wise.

Maths miss 'romped with student, 15'

A TEACHER is facing criminal charges for allegedly having sex with a 15-year-old student.

Elvia Gonzalez, 40, was caught after the lad showed the headmaster pictures of the maths miss riding on his hard, teen cock.

Gonzalez (above) had also sent the lad photos of her breasts and held-open pissflaps.

Police chief Janet Davis said: "The initial call that came out to us was that there was some kind of content on a phone between the teacher and student.

"Our investigation resulted in an arrest. The arrest was not just for sexual misconduct but sexual intercourse with a minor."

Aaron Resendez, schools district boss in McFarland, California, says he directed district lawyers to oversee an independent investigation of the incident – because he is related to Gonzalez.

THE CHARMING PSYCHOPATH

HORROR: Cops move Laci's body after it had washed up on shore

MONSTERS OF DEATH ROW

THE WORLD'S MOST EVIL MURDERERS AND THE HORRIFIC CRIMES THAT SAW THEM SENTENCED TO DEATH...

TO his family, Scott Peterson was the 'perfect husband' who, with his stunning wife Laci, was about to welcome a baby boy into the world.

But smiling psychopath Peterson was actually a 'world-class liar', leading a double-life and dating a blonde massage therapist behind Laci's back.

His murderous web of deceit was only revealed when Laci's dismembered body washed up on the shore – along with that of her unborn son...

WITH his devilish grin and devastating good looks, Scott Peterson is the most lusted-after man on America's Death Row.

His mailbag at California's infamous San Quentin prison bulges with twisted marriage proposals from sick women who began to lust after him following his high-profile trial in 2003.

Peterson was also the inspiration for the character played by Hollywood hunk Ben Affleck in the 2014 movie Gone Girl.

But looks can be deceiving.

Because Peterson, now 43, is a cold, calculating deviant who deserves his fate – to be executed by lethal injection.

By JUSTIN DUNN news@sundaysport.co.uk

This is a man who took out a life insurance premium when he found out his wife, Laci, was expecting his child – a boy they'd already agreed to name Conner.

This is a man who made secret phone calls to his bit on the side, attractive Amber Frey, as he attended a vigil for his then-missing wife.

Stalked

And this is a man who was arrested seemingly in the nick of time, as he sat in a car weighed down with a killer's tool kit as he stalked his next victim.

In the end, Peterson wanted a return to his bachelor ways, free from the obligations of his impending family life.

But now he rots in isolation, waiting to die.

It's no wonder Laci's poor mother, Sharon Rocha, screamed with rage when she addressed him in the courtroom shortly before his death sentence was passed in March 2005.

She'd told him: "You deserve to burn in Hell for all eternity!

"Were you proud? Did it give you a sense of accomplishment?

"You tossed her away like garbage. She was not your possession to get rid of, she was my baby.

"I entrusted her to you. You betrayed me and you betrayed Laci.

"I'll never know my grandson. Would he have long, dark eyelashes? Would he have her dimples? Would he like school or sports? Would he cry when he has his picture taken with Santa? What would be in his Easter basket?

"You are a monster."

Besides occasionally fidgeting in his chair, Peterson showed little emotion during his trial.

At one point he even laughed out loud when a lawyer made a joke about car salesmen.

If he felt one shred of guilt over the grisly deeds he performed, this well-educated former university student didn't show it.

Events had begun to unfold on Christmas Eve 2002.

According to Peterson's version of events, he'd headed out to Berkeley Marina for a fishing trip.

He'd left Laci – fresh from painting Conner's nursery pastel blue as part of a nautical theme – to walk their pet golden retriever, McKenzie.

When he returned to their shared home in Modesto, California, Laci was nowhere to be found and the alarm was raised.

Cops didn't know that eight-months pregnant Laci, 27, was already dead, her corpse weighed down in the ocean.

Laci's family organised a vigil and initially stood by Peterson, despite rumours of his potential actions spreading like wildfire.

To the Rochas, Scott was a loyal and loving husband. Laci's younger sister, Amy, told how she hoped to find a man just like Scott one day.

But as the weeks passed and the search intensified, Peterson's behaviour began to seem more and more odd.

Sulked

He stormed out of press conferences when asked probing questions and let his phone ring during interviews.

Surely a man desperately searching for clues about the whereabouts of his wife would want to take a call which might offer hope?

While police and volunteers combed the countryside for clues, Peterson sulked in his sister Anne's apartment, watching TV and porn channels.

Then, on January 24, 2003, the mask slipped entirely.

Amber Frey approached

police to say that she'd been having an affair with Scott. They'd met just a month before Laci's disappearance.

Scott hadn't told her he was married. And Amber, once a nude model, only realised the terrible truth when she saw him on TV screens begging for information about the woman he'd married in 1997.

Chillingly, Amber told how in December, two weeks before Laci's disappearance, Peterson had described himself as a "widower" and spoke movingly about how it would be his "first Christmas without his wife".

Laci's brother Brent told the media: "I'm only left to question what else he may be hiding.

"We have so many questions that he has not answered. I am no longer supporting him."

Cops intensified their searches of Peterson's house, car and boat.

That's when they discovered he was due a sum of $250,000 in the event of Laci's death.

Just weeks after her disappearance, Peterson also sold Laci's expensive Land Rover Discovery SE car.

But with no hard evidence to go on, officers could only wait for further developments.

They didn't have to wait long.

In April 2003, a couple walking their dog along the San Francisco Bay shore, 90 miles from the Petersons' house, came upon the decomposing body of a male foetus.

It was Conner.

An autopsy found nylon tape wrapped around the baby's neck and a cut on its body.

Decapitated

A day later, Laci's body washed ashore, too. She had been decapitated, both forearms were missing, the left leg below the knee removed and the right foot was severed.

She had also been disemboweled.

With Amber ready to testify against Peterson and armed with proof of Laci and Conner's murders, cops swooped and arrested Peterson in a golf club car park on April 18.

He had grown a goatee and bleached both it and his hair blonde in an attempt to disguise himself.

In his car, he was carrying $15,000 in cash, four mobile phones, camping equipment, 12 tablets of Viagra, knives, a double-edged dagger, a shovel, rope, sleeping pills, a loaded gun – and a map to Amber's place of work.

No-one can ever be sure of Peterson's intentions, but on the face of it Amber looks to have had a lucky escape.

Peterson's murder trial began in earnest in June 2004 amid some unprecedented media coverage.

While hard evidence was thin on the ground – cops had found one of Laci's hairs in Peterson's pair of pliers – his excuses were risible.

First his defence team blamed a Satanic cult for the murder, before fingering a woman who'd been stealing the Petersons' mail.

In their view, Peterson was a 'cad', but not a killer.

The jury didn't buy it. On November 12 they convicted Peterson of first-degree murder for killing Laci, and second-degree murder for killing her unborn son.

On March 16, 2005, Judge Alfred Delucchi formally sentenced Peterson to death.

Heartless

His voice wavering, Delucchi said; "You are cruel, uncaring, heartless and callous. The young boy, Conner, was never permitted to draw a breath on Earth."

The exact cause of death for Laci and Conner were never determined due to the extent of decomposition.

But Peterson's sister Anne is certain she knows what happened, having been the closest family member to him.

She recently said: "I think he drowned her in their pool. It's a silent death. Nobody would hear anything.

"It's hard for me to think about it because I picture Laci and it hurts.

"She loved to float in the pool to ease the stress on her body from pregnancy. I just know that's what he did. It's hard to comprehend. And it hurts."

In a tragic twist, Peterson's new home in San Quentin State Prison overlooks the bay where Laci's body was discarded.

Laci's grief-stricken family can only hope that their spirits float up from the waves to haunt Peterson every time he closes his eyes.

EXETER UNI OFFERS A DEGREE IN PORN

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

THE University of Exeter has become the first in the UK to offer a course in PORN.

From 2020, students studying in the department of Art History and Visual Culture will be able to take the module entitled 'Pornography: Bodies, Sex and Representation'.

Dr João Florêncio will deliver the module, which will cover a range of erotic and pornographic material, including historically-censored films, gay and feminist porn and amateur pornography.

According to the module's page, it will 'approach pornography as a form of cultural production that can illuminate our understanding of the ways in which our societies have conceived and represented human bodies, their sexual desires and sexual pleasures'.

Dr Florêncio posted on his Twitter account in 2018, saying: "Chuffed to bits that my new undergrad module "Pornography: Bodies, Sex and Representation" has been accredited and that Exeter will be the first UK University with one such module! Porn literacy matters!"

In the University of Exeter's student mag, Exposé, Dr Florêncio said: "Students will, I hope, leave the module better equipped to think critically about issues of power, censorship, obscenity, sex, sexualities, subjectivities, desires and pleasures as they intersect and are co-shaped by modern and contemporary pornography."

SCORCHING hot Ashleigh Gee loves nothing more than SEXTING her fella before they spend the entire night SHAGGING.

Ashleigh, 25, from Chelmsford, Essex, regularly sends her lucky bloke kinky snaps of her 34DD norks during the day.

And it all builds up to an energetic sex session once they're both home from work.

She said: "I love sexting with a guy. Nothing gets me hornier than building up to red-hot sex by sending explicit texts during the day!

"I love sending topless pics and naughty videos of myself.

"And I like to make a meal of it with a marathon session in the evening.

"I love lots of foreplay to build up the tension. Then the release is even better.

"And I love to tease a guy and bring him close, then ease back.

"Then I repeat until he's absolutely begging for it!"

PEEPING TOM IS BEATEN TO DEATH

BLUNT FORCE TRAUMA: Akar

Prowling perv died 'with his dick out...'

By GRACE HOOPER news@sundaysport.co.uk

A PEEPING Tom was beaten to death after he was caught watching a couple having sex.

Victor Vickery, 30, was arrested and charged with manslaughter over the death of Asaad Akar, 57.

Akar – who had a history of prowling – was partially naked and peeping through the window while Vickery and his girlfriend were having sex.

A fight broke out when Vickery confronted the voyeur, resulting in Akar's death.

Exposed

More than a year later, Vickery has been arrested and charged.

He is now being held behind bars on a £80,000 bond while he awaits trial.

Vickery and his girlfriend Samantha Hobi were getting intimate in the bedroom of her home when the pair heard a scratching noise coming from outside their window.

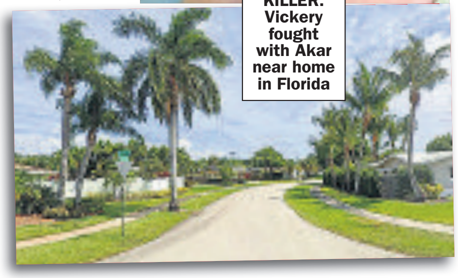
Vickery claimed he saw Akar exposed outside of the window when he went outside.

Police said Hobi called the cops as the men were fighting and can be heard on the recording of that three-minute call repeatedly saying: "Tori stop. Tori that's enough."

Vickery told police that Akar had lunged at him, got on top of him and began choking him.

Akar, who lived round the corner from Hobi in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, was taken to Broward Health North Hospital in Deerfield Beach.

He died in hospital within two hours from blunt force trauma.



KILLER: Vickery fought with Akar near home in Florida

Naked burglar caught in stranger's bathroom

POLICE arrested a man found hiding NAKED in a stranger's home.

Officers were called after receiving a breaking and entering complaint.

When they arrived, the house owner met them outside, saying the nude suspect was still in her bathroom.

Inside, cops found Carlos Cruz Dominguez, 26 – who refused to put his clothes back on.

The victim's terrified son saw Dominguez entering through the back door of the property in Winchester, Kentucky.

Dominguez has since been charged with burglary and indecent exposure.

He was placed in custody where he is being held without bail.

POSTMAN NABBED HAVING FIRST CLASS W*NK IN VAN

A POSTMAN has been found guilty of public indecency after he was caught FURIOUSLY MASTURBATING in his delivery van.

Former Scout leader Joseph Rice, 53 (below), was nabbed having a tug in his mail truck in Genoa Township on December 4, 2017.

A shocked mum and her daughter were out walking when they saw the perv beating his meat in the rear of the van, with its doors wide open.

A spokesman for the Simon Kenton Council in Delaware County, Ohio, said it learned of the accusation when Rice was charged back in February and "took immediate action to remove him as a registered member of Scouting".

A source said: "It's very embarrassing."

Rice, who was also charged with public indecency offences in 2002 and 2006, will be sentenced next month.

Park flasher waved bits at copper

A MAN was arrested after flashing his genitals at an undercover cop.

William Longoria parked next to the officer, who was driving an unmarked vehicle through a park.

Longoria (above) rested his foot on the front tyre of the cop's car and exposed his genitals.

He then lifted his shorts higher and told the officer nobody could see him, so it was OK.

Longoria suggested that the officer "perform a sex act on him", according to the arrest report.

Authorities consider John James Park in San Antonio, Texas, a "high-crime area for sexual activity".

The undercover cop alerted uniformed authorities, who took Longoria into custody.

It was discovered that the suspect is a former pretrial services program manager for Bexar County.

Longoria, 64, was charged with a Class B misdemeanor and is set to appear in court on November 1.

Jap cop quits after caught working dial-a-shag shifts

A POLICE sergeant has resigned after she was found to have moonlighted selling sex with a call-girl service known as "delivery health".

The unnamed Japanese woman is said to have worked 20 dial-a-shag shifts, earning 300,000 yen – over £2,100 – which the 27-year-old used on luxuries.

But her X-rated activities came to light after she left her belt, complete with handcuffs and loaded handgun, in a public toilet in Aioi Station, Aioi City, which was handed in by a commuter.

Police said her "quasi-prostitution" work violated the rule against "disreputable behaviour" by civil servants.

The Hyogo Prefectural Police suspended her for a month, but she handed in her badge and gun.

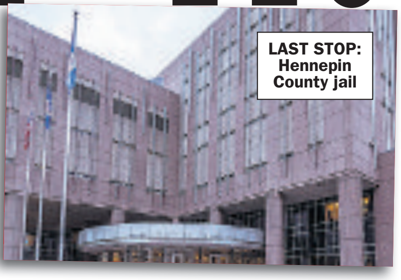
Prison guard got a blowjob from girl inmate in return for a Big Mac



LAST STOP: Hennepin County jail

By GRACE HOOPER news@sundaysport.co.uk

A PRISON guard called Randy got a female inmate to suck him off in return for a Big Mac.

Randy Beehler, 53, has been charged with third-degree criminal sexual conduct and fourth-degree criminal sexual conduct for the alleged incident that happened while he was taking the inmate to jail.

According to the charges, the woman reported that she had been sexually assaulted by the person who transported her to jail.

During the transfer, Beehler told the woman he was going to stop for food.

She indicated that she would "do anything" for some food and Beehler asked if that included coming up to the front seat and "fooling around", it is alleged.

"Beehler asked the victim if she would tell anyone if they did that and the victim said no," the charges read.

"Beehler told the victim she could get in a lot of trouble if she told anyone."

Ejaculated

Beehler stopped at a McDonald's drive-thru in Cannon Falls, Minnesota, at around 12.45pm and ordered meals for them both.

After leaving the restaurant, Beehler parked the vehicle by an abandoned business, uncuffed the victim and brought her up to the front seat before driving off again.

While travelling through Dakota County, Beehler opened his pants, exposing his penis, and the woman manually stimulated him and performed oral sex on him until he ejaculated in her mouth, the charges allege.

SHOT LOAD: Beehler

When questioned by an investigator, Beehler initially denied any inappropriate contact.

But he eventually admitted that he had got the woman food at McDonald's during the drive from from Olmsted County jail to Hennepin County jail and permitted her to sit in the front seat of the vehicle.

He also admitted the woman performed the sex acts, prosecutors say.

Beehler, of Foley, Minnesota, has posted bail and is due in court on December 11.

Porn dwarf Bridget faces 15 years jail

BATTERY AND USE OF A DEADLY WEAPON: Bridget Powers

THE world's most famous porn dwarf faces 15 years behind bars after she broke into her boyfriend's home and stabbed him in the leg with a butter knife.

Bridget Powers – real name Cheryl Murphy – was arrested in Las Vegas last month after she flew into a rage having found her fella with another woman.

Murphy, 39, who has dwarfism, was charged with burglary while in possession of a deadly weapon, and now faces the possibility of serving between two and 15 years in prison after prosecutors claimed when she entered the house she had the intention of committing a crime.

The porn star – known to Sport readers as Itsy Bitsy – also faces five years for battery with use of a deadly weapon constituting domestic violence, and six years for assault with a deadly weapon.

Screams

Murphy is said to have stabbed Jesse James in the leg with a butter knife after she screamed at him and his new lover.

The other woman said she saw Bridget stab the man in the leg and claims she tried to stab her, too, but missed.

The woman is then said to have picked Bridget, who is 3'9", up and then thrown her out of the house.

A neighbour called cops after they reported hearing screams and the sound of glass breaking.

Powers made her first porn film in 1999 as Bridget the Midget and has appeared in around 50 other movies since then.

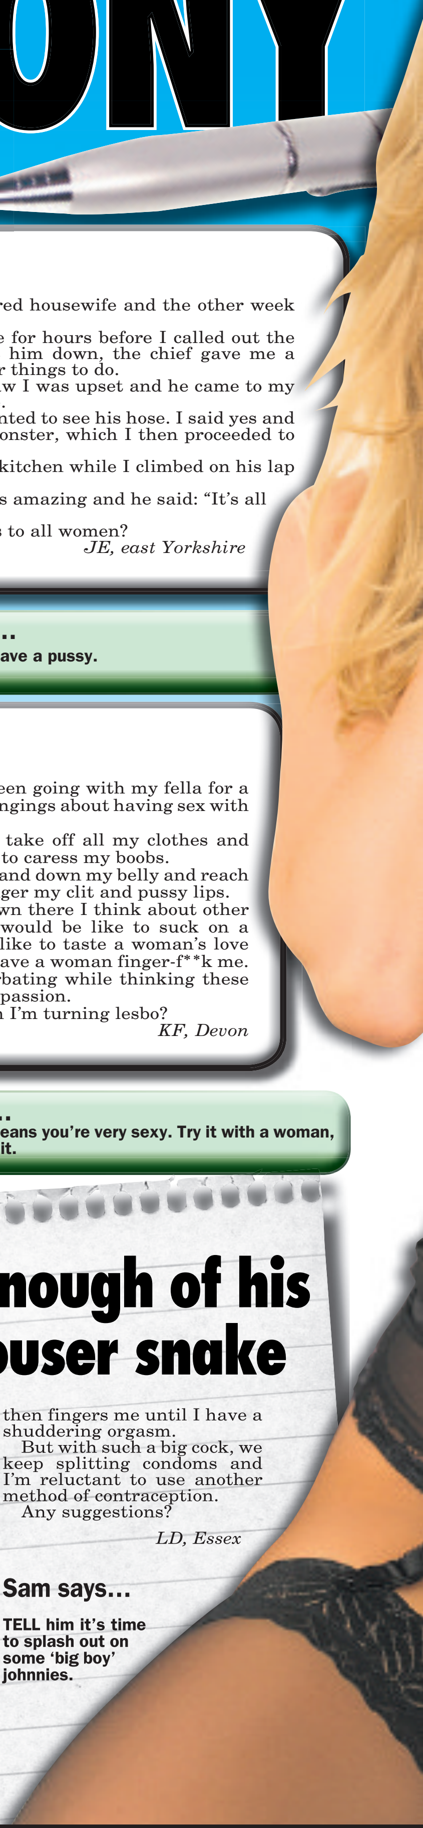
THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page



Dear Sam,

I'M a 35-year-old big-boobed bored housewife and the other week my cat got stuck in a tree.

Poor Tabby had been up there for hours before I called out the fire brigade. Although they got him down, the chief gave me a mouthful, saying they had better things to do.

One of the younger firemen saw I was upset and he came to my house after his shift to apologise.

He then cheekily asked if I wanted to see his hose. I said yes and he whipped out an eight-inch monster, which I then proceeded to suck.

He sat down on a chair in my kitchen while I climbed on his lap and rode him until we came.

Before he left, I told him it was amazing and he said: "It's all part of the service."

Am I special or does he do this to all women?

JE, east Yorkshire

Sam says…

ONLY if they have a pussy.

Dear Sam,

ALTHOUGH I'm 25 and have been going with my fella for a year, I still have these strange longings about having sex with another woman.

When I'm on my own I often take off all my clothes and stretch out on the bed and start to caress my boobs.

Then I slowly move my right hand down my belly and reach between my legs and start to finger my clit and pussy lips.

As I get wetter and wetter down there I think about other women – think about what it would be like to suck on a woman's clit, what it would be like to taste a woman's love juices, what it would be like to have a woman finger-fk me.

After a short while of masturbating while thinking these thoughts, I come with explosive passion.

Do these erotic thoughts mean I'm turning lesbo?

KF, Devon

Sam says…

NOT at all, it means you're very sexy. Try it with a woman, you might like it.

I can't get enough of his monster trouser snake

Dear Sam,

I MUST be the luckiest girl around – my boyfriend's cock is 10 inches when fully erect and is as thick as my wrist.

I know some women would worry about taking such a monster, but I have no problem at all.

It feels like we were made for each other, as I'm just that bit narrower than his dick and it's really tight when he eases it in.

Last week I sucked him off for ages – I teased his purple tip with my tongue and licked up and down his shaft as he moaned with pleasure.

Then he flipped me over and took me doggy-style.

I love it when we do it this way as he slips in his dick, then fingers me until I have a shuddering orgasm.

But with such a big cock, we keep splitting condoms and I'm reluctant to use another method of contraception.

Any suggestions?

LD, Essex

Sam says…

TELL him it's time to splash out on some 'big boy' johnnies.

Wife's steamy sex tape – with another bloke!

Dear Sam,

I WAS as surprised as anyone when my wife bought me a book called How To Make Your Own Sex Tape for my 30th birthday.

We've always had a lively sex life and I'd say we were both pretty satisfied with each other in bed.

At first she tried to pretend it was a joke gift, but recently I found her in bed reading it.

Dildo

I even caught her fingering her slippery fanny over the book when she thought I was watching football on the telly.

The other day while she was out at work I was looking through all our communal photos and videos that we keep on a shared computer.

There was one recently-added film clip whose little thumbnail image I didn't quite recognise.

So I double-clicked the file and opened it up, to play it – just out of curiosity really.

And the next thing I saw was my wife's pert little breasts in the frame. They were glistening with oil and I was gobsmacked as she rubbed more oil over her body and reached for a dildo that I'd never seen before.

Then she pulled her juicy fanny lips apart and slowly eased in the dildo, bringing herself to orgasm.

By then I was pretty aroused and got my dick out to have wank.

As she put her bum in the air and started using her fingers on herself, I was close to shooting my load.

But then I heard another voice. I turned the speakers on and boosted the sound up and it was a bloke saying: "Yeah baby, that's great."

My cock immediately shrank.

In the next few frames the fella came into the picture and started prodding at my wife's plump pussy with his huge cock.

I turned off the clip and spent the rest of the day going through the others, but that was the only sex tape I could find.

When she got home we had a big row. She tried to tell me how she'd done it for the money – £250 which we needed – and the sex flick was now on sale through a website based in the States.

This made me even angrier, especially as she'd made the sex film with another man!

But she said it was my fault and that if we made the vid together in the first place, we'd be quids in.

I don't know I can ever forgive her. What do you think?

HS, Lincolnshire

Sam says…

TOUGH call. It's always difficult to forgive a partner when they have cheated – but talk it over with her.

Trouble in store over naked blonde BJ babe

Dear Sam,

I WORK as a shop assistant in a small sports store in a busy city centre.

Last week, I had to open up the store and manage on my own as my boss was stuck in traffic.

It wasn't long before a blonde beauty walked in and used the changing room to try on a few sports bikinis.

To my surprise – and delight – she came out in a really sexy outfit and said: "What do you think?"

I said she looked "fking great" while trying to hide my boner, because she truly was amazing.

Then she whipped off her bikini top and swung her huge tits in my face.

She said she was feeling horny and ordered me to close the shop.

I eased down her bikini bottoms and slid a couple of fingers up her sopping snatch.

Banging

She pushed me up against the till and pulled down my trackies to reveal my trembling six-incher.

She knelt on the floor and licked and sucked me until I thought I'd spurt on her lovely golden hair.

When I was fit to burst she pulled her head away, bent over and said: "Right, get it in there."

But then I heard a banging on the front doors of the store. I looked up and it was my boss trying to get in.

The woman got dressed in a flash and scarpered, leaving me alone to face the music.

Now my boss, a bitch of a woman in her 50s, wants me to shag her to save my job.

What should I do?

CJ, Birmingham

Sam says…

DO a runner from that job.

Dear Sam,

I'VE been married for three years and for the past six months my wife has been having an affair.

But I don't mind as I love watching her being fked by another guy.

It all started when I came home from work early and got the shock of my life when I saw the wife's legs dangling over the edge of the bed in stockings and stilettos.

Her legs were spread wide and there was a bloke pumping into her.

They couldn't see me and, as I watched, I got a steaming hard-on.

As they swapped positions and she got on top, I started to gently wank myself.

Then the guy turned my wife over and plunged his eight-incher inside her.

My missus was groaning and writhing in ecstasy as this bloke kept pumping away at her.

She cried out "fk me hard" – just like she does when we make love.

She came to an orgasm just as I shot my load.

I slipped out of the house unnoticed, but I did confront her later.

There was no row, as I said I'd enjoyed it, and she said I could watch every week if I wanted.

This has been going on for a while. Am I a pervert?

PT, Suffolk

Sam says…

NOT at all, everybody seems to be enjoying themselves.

#MY SEX FANT

'He bends me over the desk and bangs me into next week'

...WITH ZUZANA DRABINOVA, 29 36DD-25-35 FROM EDGWARE, N. LONDON

I FANTASISE about having a wild romp in the office with a sexy co-worker.

We would have been flirting outrageously for months, and just holding back – trying not to let anything happen.

But he's really hot and I can't keep my eyes off him, and I notice him staring at me, too.

Then one Friday after work we go out as a team for drinks and we get a little tipsy... we make eye-contact and in that moment we know we're going to shag!

He whispers, 'Meet me back in the office in five minutes'.

So I make my excuses and leave, go to the copy room and a few minutes later he opens the door and steps in.

I'll hike up my skirt and he'll undo his pants, and there's no messing about... I drop to my knees and start sucking his cock while he fondles my boobs.

Then he'll bend me over a desk and bang me into next week – I orgasm and he comes all over my tits.

The following Monday, we get back to work and act like it never happened!

DONNA TICKEL

By SIMON DEAN
simon@sundaysport.co.uk

BACK in the Nineties there were few Sport babes as hard working as dishy Donna Tickel.

Donna was born in 1981 in Sevenoaks, Kent, and when she turned 18, she got into the glamour game – appearing in Sunday Sport countless times.

She was also a favourite of the flash-in-the-pan lads' mags.

But it was for Sport newspapers that Donna did her finest work.

Often in partnership with Wakefield's horny Hannah Claydon, Donna was one of the lucky topless models who got to go out on the Sport's famous workplace visits all over Britain.

Donna and Hannah's day out with the British Army at their Aldershot barracks was an extra special treat to our brave boys.

And in 2007 – the same year she was Playboy's Cyber Girl – Donna took part in the annual Great Gorilla Run in London.

SOLID: Lampard

BLUES TO GO DUTCH AT AJAX

I'M really looking forward to seeing how Chelsea fare in the Champions League against Ajax in Amsterdam this evening. Last season's beaten semi-finalists have won their first two group games by an emphatic 3-0 scoreline — at home to Lille and in Valencia.

Last season's Europa League winners Chelsea got their CL campaign back on track with a narrow win in France on matchday 2 and the Blues are unbeaten in their last nine away games in European competition.

Ajax did the domestic double last season and are unbeaten in 17 competitive games so far this season (W14 D4). Their last defeat? Spurs unlikely 3-2 win at the Johan Cruyff Stadium in the 2nd leg of the Champions League semi-final back in May.

Ajax are 5/4 to keep all three points with Frank Lampard's young side 15/8 and the draw at 27/10 with BetVictor. The price for the draw looks too big and a point would be a good result for the Blues.

Liverpool are 8/11 at BetVictor for the Premier League title after their 1-1 draw at Old Trafford on Sunday but the Reds are in Belgium this evening when they visit a Genk side who picked up what could be a crucial point at home to Napoli on Matchday 2.

Genk have drawn all four of their home Champions League games in the group stages, but I can't see them gaining that elusive first win against the holders despite the fact that Jurgen Klopp's side have lost their last four group games in the competition away from home.

Bucked

The hosts lost at Standard Liege at the weekend and currently lie third in the Belgium league. Liverpool are 1/4 at BetVictor and that makes no appeal from a betting proposition. Liverpool to win to nil is 29/20 with BetVictor and that is the recommendation.

Rangers travel to Porto tomorrow in what promises to be a cracking Europa League tie. All four games in Group G have been won by the home side so far although Steven Gerrard's side almost bucked that trend before losing out to a last-minute winner in Berne on Matchday 2.

Porto reached the quarter-finals of the Champions League last season although they lost home and away to Liverpool in the last eight. Porto have only been in the group stages of the Europa League on one previous occasion – in the 2010/11 season when they lifted the Trophy. The Dragons have a rich European heritage.

The Portuguese side are 4/9 to keep the points with Rangers 11/2 and the draw at 7/2. I think the Gers can take a point despite losing two valuable points at Tynecastle on Sunday in their bid to arrest the SPL crown from Celtic.

Rangers are 17/10 at BetVictor in the double chance market – to either win or draw – and that looks the value. Both teams to score is 31/40 at BetVictor and that also looks overpriced.

FORMIDABLE: The All-Blacks face England in the World Cup

Pressure is on the All Blacks

ENGLAND HAVE NOTHING TO LOSE SAYS JONES

By PAUL THOMAS

EDDIE Jones says all the pressure is on the All Blacks when they face England in the World Cup semis.

The Red Rose coach knows his team are the underdogs for once heading into a big match.

They face New Zealand in Yokahama as the reigning champions look to win the third World Cup on the spin.

Jones believes the weight of history is weighing on his rivals.

He said: "New Zealand talk about walking towards pressure, well this week the pressure is going to be chasing them down the street. That's the reality of it, that's how we're approaching it.

"We don't have any pressure. Put up your hand if you think we can win. There you go, so no one. No one thinks we can win.

"So there's no pressure on us, we've just got to have a great week, enjoy it, relax.

"Train hard and enjoy this great opportunity we've got, whereas they've got to be thinking about how they're looking for their third World Cup.

"I don't think they are vulnerable but pressure is a real thing. The busiest bloke in Tokyo this week will be Gilbert Enoke, their mental skills coach.

"They have to deal with all this pressure of winning the World Cup three times and it is potentially the last game for their greatest coach and their greatest captain and they will be thinking about those things.

Play

"Those thoughts go through your head. It is always harder to defend a World Cup and they will be thinking about that and therefore there is pressure.

"We've got nothing to lose, that's the exciting thing for us. We can just go out there and play our game. If we're good enough we'll win, if we're not good enough we've done our best.

"Seventeen of our players went on the Lions tour to New Zealand. They went down there, they played in their back yard.

"They know they're human. They bleed, they drop balls, they miss tackles like every other player. It's our job to take the time and space away to put them under pressure."

Jones admits there's been a little family tension over the match.

He added: "There are 120million Japanese people out there whose second team are the All Blacks.

"I even have to tell my wife to stop barracking for them!"

GUNNERS STILL GRANIT TOUGH

GRANIT Xhaka says it's "bullshit" to say Arsenal have lost their bottle.

The Gunners have come in for plenty of stick for their display in losing 1-0 to Sheffield United on Monday night. They could have gone third in the Premier League with a win but they failed to deliver on the road once again.

Arsenal have now lost five of their past away games in the top flight and their problems in defence were evident against the Blades.

By JOHN ANTHONY

Unai Emery's men managed just one shot on target during the whole game and looked dodgy every time the home side put a cross into the box.

Xhaka is angry that some pundits suggested that the Londoners lack bottle.

He hit back, saying: "We have to stop about mental bullshit like this.

"For me, it is the same whether you play home or away — you have to win and show big character and a good game and not to always find the same excuse."

Patrice Evra has really wound up Xhaka and he is fuming about him calling the Gunners "babies".

He boomed: "A lot of people they speak too much. It is not the first time he has spoken something about us.

"I have a lot of respect for him as he was a great player but you have to be careful what you say.

"But it is not only him — a lot of people speak a lot of bullshit about us. It's always the same.

"For me it is strange as they were in the same situation as us, they were players as well before pundits.

"Sometimes it is good and sometimes it is not always good but every week they speak bullshit like this every week.

"I tell you the honest truth, I'm not interested in what people say and speak.

"We have to speak in our group to improve things and work hard and not listen to these people."

Improve

Xhaka is club captain and reckons there are no issues with the way Arsenal defend.

He added: "I think we did a lot of good things and they had one chance, and it was a goal.

"But it's too easy, you shouldn't lose a game because of a corner or a free-kick.

"We have to improve but there were some good things as well. In the end if you want to be top four then you have to beat Sheffield United."

Boss Emery is upset at missing the chance to cement a place in the Champions League spots.

He said: "The table is very close for the teams in and around us and we know that we missed a chance.

"Sheffield United have conceded less goals than Liverpool this season so it was going to be difficult.

"We didn't deserve to lose that match. We worked, the attitude was good and I think we deserved more."

GAFFER: Unai Emery

TOUGH GUY: Granit Xhaka

FRIENDLY: Firmino

I'm Firm pals with United 'enemies'

ROBERTO Firmino says there's nothing wrong with being mates with players from other teams.

The Liverpool forward came in for plenty of stick from Man United legend Roy Keane after back slapping some of the Red Devils before Sunday's showdown.

He made a point of greeting fellow Brazil stars Fred and Andreas Pereira in the tunnel ahead of the 1-1 draw at Old Trafford.

That really wound up Keane who is famous for his antics against the opposition before matches even kicked off.

He once famously had cross words with Arsenal skipper Patrick Vieira before a game at Highbury.

And he wasn't happy at the old pals' act.

Keane raged: "You're going to war and they're hugging and kissing.

"Don't even look at the opposition. You're going into battle against them.

"The game hasn't changed that much, the players have changed. You're going to war against these players and they're hugging each other.

Controversy

"Chat to them after the game, or don't even chat to them after the game."

But Firmino isn't having those comments from firebrand Keano.

He bit back: "I don't want to create controversy with anyone.

"I find it quite normal before the game to greet each other, ask how they are doing. That's all. Nothing more than that.

"But on the pitch, they aren't friends, each one defends his club to the best of his ability. Then the rivalry increases on the pitch."

Liverpool now travel to Belgium for a Champions League clash against Genk.

After losing in Napoli and just squeaking past RB Salzburg in the group so far the Reds could do with a positive result.

Boss Jurgen Klopp is waiting on the fitness of Mo Salah who wasn't even on the bench against United.

He's touch and go while possible replacement Xherdan Shaqiri is receiving treatment in his native Switzerland.

He said: "I'm from Basel, so I always visit my family here.

"It's good that I can do a part of my therapy for my injury here in Basel."

POGBA TOPS FOR MOYESY

PAUL Pogba could walk into ANY team in the world.

That's the view of former Manchester United boss David Moyes who rates the Frenchman as Old Trafford's best player.

The midfielder comes in for plenty of stick for not delivering week-in, week out for Ole Gunnar Solskjaer's men.

He has been missing with injury but is close to a first-team return.

And Moyes believes that's the boost that can fire United back into the top-four race. He said:

By ANDY MILLOM

"Pogba is still Manchester United's best midfield player and I think Pogba can play for any team in the world. He'd get a game for any team.

"I'm not sure he's a player who is consistent and makes a difference all the time.

"I think for the profile he's got, you hope he makes the difference. He doesn't always do that for me.

"But I think he should stay at Manchester United. I don't think he wins games like Messi does for Barcelona or Ronaldo's done for Juventus.

"He's a really talented player and he's got a lot to give.

"His best for me was then he was at Juventus. He joined in more and got closer to the opposition box.

"Pogba is at his best getting near the box and trying to score a few goals.

"If you were picking United's team, I still think that Pogba would be in their midfield."

Reports in Spain have long suggested that Real Madrid would make a January move to bring Pogba to the Bernabeu.

But it looks as though Kylian Mbappe has become the Spanish giants' No1 target.

Club president Florentino Perez is looking for a Galactico and has highlighted the PSG frontman.

He believes a goalscorer would make more impact than a player who operates in a deeper role like Pogba.

Perez is thought to be putting together a megadeal for Mbappe next summer and has gone off the Manchester United man.

ERIKSEN FOR ISCO

Real Madrid fancy swap in January

By JOHN ANTHONY

REAL Madrid want Christian Eriksen in January — and will offer Isco in a swap deal.

The Spanish giants are targeting the Tottenham playmaker who is in the final year of his contract at White Hart Lane.

The 27-year-old will leave in the summer for nothing but Madrid would like to get him after Christmas.

According to reports in Spain, they want Isco — who plays in a similar position to the Dane — off their wage bill and would be prepared to swap him for Eriksen.

Isco is one of several stars who have been given the cold shoulder by Real boss Zinedine Zidane and he would surely jump at the chance to join the Londoners.
